

HISTORY RESEARCH SEMINARS · SEMESTER 2, 2022

Fridays, 11.15 am–12.30 pm

Room 115, Social Sciences South (Bedford Park) / Microsoft Teams

29 July	Professor Rachel Ankeny (University of Adelaide) ‘From local biology to global sequencing and back again: how native organisms create bridges in contemporary Australian biosciences’
5 August	Dr Erin Sebo (Flinders University) ‘ Ne sorga : grief and revenge in early medieval England’
12 August	Dr Adam Jessup (University of New England) ‘The “Cain”, the fixer, and the psychoanalyst: the entwined fates of Léopold Szondi and Adolf Eichmann and the judicial legacies of the Hungarian Holocaust’
19 August	Dr Sarah Peters (Flinders University) ‘Verbatim theatre: writing lived experiences into performance’
26 August	Dr Jane Carey (University of Wollongong) ‘Confronting the legacies of race in Australian women’s and feminist histories: the case of eugenics and birth control’
2 September	Associate Professor Yasuko Hassall Kobayashi (Ristumeikan University / ANU) ‘Transpacific visions’
9 September	Associate Professor Hans-Lukas Kieser (University of Newcastle) ‘When violence won: the Conference and Treaty of Lausanne (1922–1923)’
14 October	Sandra Kearney (Flinders University) ‘The questions asked and the answers found: letters to and from the South Australian Red Cross Information Bureau in the First World War’
21 October	Dr Micaela Pattison (Flinders University) ‘Mass culture and the Spanish modern girl on the eve of the Second Republic’
28 October	Dr Chris Holdridge (North-West University) ‘Western Australian convicts and global genealogies of immigration control, 1850–1870’
4 November	Tim Mansueto and Professor Andrekos Varnava (Flinders University) ‘A civil war by any other name? Critiquing the quantitative literature in peace and conflict studies and the Cypriot Civil War, 1963–67’

Microsoft Teams Link: click here Meeting ID: 486449856740 Passcode: budGCs

Enquiries: Associate Professor Christine Winter (christine.winter@flinders.edu.au)

Dr James Kane (james.kane@flinders.edu.au; 82013365)

All are welcome!

INSPIRING
ACHIEVEMENT